Lita Awarded Custody of Children and $4,000
Maintenance

(By Universal Service)
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—Income tax lien suits totaling $1,027,721.47 were filed against Charlie Chaplin through the office of Internal Revenue Collector Welch today.

The lien suits, six in number, cover a period of six years and are based on alleged incorrect income tax returns.

According to the information filed by Collector Welch in the United States district court the separate amounts alleged to be due the government are $134,622.49 for 1918; $31,501.21 for 1919; $576,968.45 for 1921; $71,208.73 for 1922; $89,371.83 for 1923 and $170,048.72 for 1924.

Notices of the lien suits were served at Chaplin's studio, on the two receivers appointed by the superior court pending Mrs. Chaplin's divorce action, and at his Beverly Hills residence. No services on Chaplin personally will be necessary, Welch stated.

Federal officials stated that the tax liens made by the government take precedence over all Chaplin's personal and business debts.

DEATH OF TWO "UNAVOIDABLE" SAYS VERDICT

A coroner's jury brought in a verdict of "accidental death, unavoidable, no blame fixed" in an inquest conducted yesterday afternoon by Coroner Aubrey Wilson into the deaths of George Hughes and Robert Callender who were killed when the automobile in which they were driving was struck by a Santa Fe train at the Thirty-seventh street crossing Friday morning.

Louis Beckman, engineer of Number 321, the Santa Fe passenger which crashed with the machine, stated that all precautions had been observed. Whistles were blown at the whistle post, 1500 feet from the crossing, again at 200 feet and on warning from the fireman, Frank C. Stewart, were sounded within fifty feet from the crossing. Beckman stated that an unobstructed view for a mile was visible from where the men were at the time of the accident.

Beckman declared that he put on the emergency brakes but that the drizzly weather on Friday morning made it impossible for (Continued on page 4)

New Board Of Directors Of Local Credit Rating Bureau Named At Meeting

The annual meeting of the Richmond Credit Rating bureau was held last night at the Hotel Carquinez under the direction of Harry Alberts, president.

Marie Macdonald Jensen, manager of the bureau, gave a detailed report of the activities of the year. Stress was laid on the effectiveness of the bureau flash system on bad checks and shoplifters by which thousands of dollars was saved the members last year.

The audit of the books showed a substantial gain in membership and revenue and the collection department returns were encouraging. Mrs. Jensen said that the successful operation of the bureau was in a large measure due to the loyal and conscientious work of her assistant, Miss Luella Mitchell and she also thanked the board of directors for their continued support. The improvement in records turned in by the membership at large was commented on most favorably by the manager as making credit safer for (Continued on Page 8)

ADVOCATES OF "BIG NAVY" WIN BITTER BATTLE

Fund is Appropriated to Start Construction of Three Cruisers

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—"Big navy" advocates in the senate won the skirmish in the fight for an adequate national defense today when the appropriations committee recommended $1,200,000 to start construction on three additional light cruisers.

At the same time, the committee agreed to increase the naval personnel from $2,500, as passed by the house, to $4,000, and increased by $2,000,000 the appropriation for carrying out the five-year naval aviation program.

Leaders were confident that the "big navy" forces will win in the senate, and there were indications that the appropriation for the cruisers will be approved when it again goes before the house in the conference report, despite the opposition of President Coolidge.

In addition to increasing the aviation funds in the bill, the committee added $5,000,000 to the house provision approving the contract construction authorization, making the total $10,000,000 for this purpose up to 1929.

The senate committee added $5,267,854 to the house bill, bringing the total up to $320,020,534 for the navy next year. The appropriation last year was $319,917,775. The budget estimate for next year was $314,703,650.

The fight for the "big navy" forces was led in the committee by Senator Hale of Maine, chairman of the naval affairs committee, who will be in charge of the measure on the senate floor. He had strong support from Senator Swanson of Virginia, ranking Democrat, and former chairman of the naval committee.

Members of the committee said that the vote for the funds to begin work on the cruisers was overwhelming, after Hale had charged that the budget bureau was attempting to override the policies of congress. Hale told the committee that Director Lord in considering the recommendations of the navy department had depended largely upon the advice of a former sergeant major in the army quartermaster corps.

TRAINMAN HURT WHEN CRUSHED BETWEEN CARS

Caught between two passenger coaches as they were rounding a curve on a spur in the Pullman yards early yesterday afternoon, Charles Prebasco, 55, of 1128 Adeline street, Oakland, received serious back injuries and possible internal injuries which may prove fatal.

Prebasco, who was in charge of the switch engine which had gone to the Pullman yards to get some passenger coaches was riding between the two cars. As the cars went around the curve, Prebasco was caught between the platforms of the two cars. Other workers on the train and Pullman employees heard his screams and saw him drop to the ground as the cars straightened out after passing the curve and released the injured man from the gigantic vice.

Prebasco was rushed to the Abbott Emergency hospital in a Wilson and Kratzner ambulance where his injuries were reported to be of a serious nature. After receiving emergency treatment and after several X-rays had been taken he was removed to the St. Luke's hospital in San Francisco.

Hopes Of Peace In Nicaragua Are Abandoned By Government

American Marines Will Occupy Country
Indefinitely

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The state department today abandoned hope of immediate peace in Nicaragua and made plans for the indefinite occupation of that country by American marines.

The department has been advised that neither Dr. Juan Sacasa, rebel leader, nor Adolfo Diaz, president, will voluntarily eliminate himself. And until one or the other, or both, can be prevailed upon to withdraw, the department feels that the presence of American naval forces there is absolutely necessary for the protection of American lives and property, it was stated.

Until today the state department had believed that Dr. Sacasa would retire. Since American naval forces have made it well nigh impossible for him to prosecute the "war." He is completely surrounded, cut off from supplies of arms and so far as actual fighting is concerned, his revolt is officially dead.

Sacasa, however, has informed Admiral Julian Latimer, who is trying to bring about peace, that he will not retire. Diaz, who has the advantage of being in office and supported by the United States, also declared that he would not retire, and opposes a special election at this time.

The state department, it is understood, would like to see president Diaz order an immediate election and resign, but can not force (Continued on Page 8)

STREET CAR CO. MAKING SURVEY

The Key System Transit company is making a survey of San Pablo avenue and Standard avenue with the idea of changing its tracks on those streets it was reported to the city council last night by City Manager J. A. McVittie.

Standard avenue will be widened to eighty feet within a short time and the car tracks will probably be moved to the center of the street.

The paving of San Pablo avenue to its full width within the city limits and the moving of the tracks to the center of the streets with the double tracking of the line from Macdonald avenue to McBryde avenue is being considered in the San Pablo avenue survey.

May Change Street Light To Aid Traffic

Upon the suggestion of Councilman W. W. Scott, the city council last night instructed its light committee to investigate the moving of the light at Virginia street and Central avenue.

Central street is a blind street in that vicinity and according to Scott many motorists have complained that they were blinded by the street light and ran off the street into a mud puddle, where their cars became mired.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Westover, 444 Fifth street, and Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Willis, of Torrey, are the parents of boys born at the Richmond Maternity hospital yesterday.

Upon the recommendation of its light committee the city council last night ordered the installation of a new street light at Nevil and San Pablo avenues.

MURDER TRIAL WILL NOT BE CALLED TODAY

Local Youth Will Face
Jury for Sanity Test
Thursday

Alienists appointed by Superior Judge H. V. Alvarado, yesterday morning examined Donald L. Streeter, who on November 16, shot and killed Clifford Bosanko at the Standard Oil refinery here, and reported back to the court that in their opinion the youth was "unquestionably insane at the present time." A similar statement had been made by an alienist secured by the defense, several days ago, after an examination of the youth at the county jail.

Dr. Fred P. Clark, head of the Stockton hospital for the insane and Dr. Frank N. Ogden, who holds a similar position at the Napa state hospital conducted the examination yesterday. Dr. Joseph Catton of San Francisco examined Streeter several days ago at the request of the defense.

When Streeter appears for trial this morning Judge Alvarado will order the murder trial suspended. A special venire of jurymen will be called to pass upon the question of Streeter's sanity Thursday morning at 10 a. m.

At this trial doctors who have already examined the youth will testify as to their findings. If the special jury finds him insane, Streeter will be committed to an asylum. If he at any time recovers his sanity he will face a murder trial, charged with having killed Clifford Bosanko.

Investigation by Contra Costa authorities leaves room for the suspicion that Streeter shot Bosanko while mentally deranged. Deputy District Attorney James P. Hoey has been able to find no motive for the cold-blooded slaying. It is presumed that the murder was the outgrowth of brooding upon imagined wrongs to such an extent that "killing" seemed the only solution.

The part that Bosanko played in creating these illusions cannot be ascertained. Perhaps the hearing of this morning will reveal the reasons which prompted the youth to murder the man.

Tsar N. Calfee and T. D. Johnston are the attorneys conducting the case for Streeter.

PICTORIAL REVIEW

"I'm going to start me a graveyard and put you and Frank Norris in the same grave."

This mortuary plan did not suit Woodruff, who told Chipps:

"I don't think I'll go into a grave with Norris. Who is he?"

To this, Chipps is said to have replied:

"A blankety-blank preacher."

Woodruff's testimony, in itself merely a small part of today's overwhelming evidence by many witnesses that Chipps was an habitual drunkard and a mean one when in his cups, provoked a hot interchange between defense and prosecution.

Several attorneys went off the handle so did the head of Judge James H. Hamilton's gavel. W. P. "Wild Bill" McLean, special prosecutor, boiled when Marvin Simpson, of the defense referred to the battery of six special prosecutors as the "hired prosecution."

The word "untruthful" was applied loudly on either side. As many as four irate barristers were on their feet as well as on their several dignities simultaneously. A packed court room buzzed. Some one laughed. The court later warned gigglers to save their mirth for the street as "a man is on trial for his liberty and his life."

When McLean protested "sillable remarks" of defense counsel and the "hired prosecution" charge, Simpson shouted:

"The prosecutor has charged that this witness (C. S. Ware, Barber, who formerly shaved Chipps) is not telling the truth. I say he is. There are some six lawyers of the state who are hired prosecutors. The special prosecutor (McLean) is being paid $15,000 to think the witness is not telling the truth."

McLean, seeking to show that Chipps never made a physical attack or carried weapons, asked Woodruff:

"With all those supposed drunken actions of Chipps and his various threats, you never heard of him even slapping anyone, did you?"

"I saw him do it," was Woodruff's reply. He then recounted four fights he had with Chipps. During one of them he started to tell how he had found an open knife under Chipps after a fight, but the evidence was excluded on the ground the weapon was not on Chipps person. Chipps once threatened to cut Woodruff's throat.

Somehow, despite all the Pike's Peak of today's black testimony, an impression remains that Chipps was just a plain drunk whose bark was far worse than his bite.

Altogether, it was not a day calculated to cheer the prosecution. It was hinted that Mrs. Chipps, the widow who divorced Chipps a year or so before the tragedy, may be called to the stand in rebuttal. However, certain well informed persons scouted this move, inasmuch as Mrs. Chipps, in her divorce action, is said to have charged drunkenness and cruelty.

J. O. Pemberton, retired banker, and once a deacon in Norris church, supplied a whole chapter to Chipps' career of riot and rum. Special Prosecutor McLean shouted at the elderly Pemberton in cross examination:

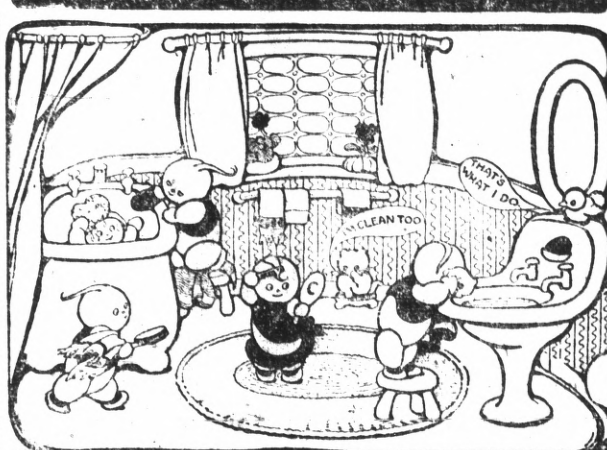

"He was quarrelsome, you say, when you were playing cards and drinking with him?"

The former deacon replied: "I don't think I ever took a drink with him. I may have played punch with him."

How Chipps was ejected from a hotel, how he once borrowed a pistol from A. B. Hamm, live stock man, how he just naturally cut up bad, was told on the stand. City Detective H. W. Connor of Fort Worth recounted how two days before the slaying Chipps told him he was going to kill Norris if he didn't let Chipps' friends alone. A. D. Harding, state representative of Tarrant county, said that Chipps when drunk was bad.

CHIPPS "BAD" CHARGED IN NORRIS TRIAL

(By Universal Service)
By GENE FOWLER

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 17.—As far back as January, 1922, Dexter E. Chipps threatened to kill the Rev. J. Frank Norris, Fort Worth pastor. This was testified to this afternoon by John Woodruff, 235-pound policeman. The Rev. Norris is charged with slaying Chipps last July 17 in the preacher's study.

Woodruff quoted Chipps as having been on one of his many roaring sprees when he made the threat. Chipps, the witness testified, said:

"I'm going to start me a graveyard and put you and Frank Norris in the same grave."

This mortuary plan did not suit Woodruff, who told Chipps:

"I don't think I'll go into a grave with Norris. Who is he?"

FOREVER AFTER IS ATTRACTION AT CALIFORNIA

Another great stage success has been turned into a moving picture of exceptional appeal. "Forever After" which First National filmed from Owen Davis' play of the same name, should be one of the season's cinema hits if the reception it got at the California theatre last night is a true guide.

Chuck full of vivid action in scenes of childhood games, football clashes and the even more thrilling combats of French battlefields, the picture is woven around a tender love affair between the son of an impoverished lawyer and the gentle daughter of a New England plutocrat. Mary Astor has taken the role of Alice Brady, made famous on the stage, and left it with a charm and beauty which, aided by the limitless range of the camera, makes an even more intriguing character on the screen. Lloyd Hughes makes a fresh attractive hero who plunges through life with the same gay abandon in football games and hand-to-hand engagements in No Man's Land that marked his daring as a boy in the little New England town.

The story is told in a flashback fashion with a wounded infantry captain lying almost dead on the battlefield, remembering scene by scene, the highlights of his heroic young life.

A startling climax makes this new film stand out as an entertainment of more than ordinary appeal. David Torrence and Alice Francis, both of whom seemed to be favorites with the California audience; Eulalie Jensen, whom this reviewer found charming in her poise and bearing; Hallam Coolidge, John St. Polis, Lila Leslie and a group of football players from last year's championship team at the University of Southern California complete the cast. No, there was another character—an unnamed guest which shared the starring honors.

The fifth thrilling chapter of "Forever After," "Topics," Scenes, and Larry Canelo at the organ, are other features on the same program.

"Unholy Three" Underworld Film At The Richmond

There is no lack of thrills and entertainment in Tod Browning's crook drama, "The Unholy Three," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, now showing at the Richmond theatre.

Indeed, it may be said that Browning has made more than a good underworld picture. He has made a melodrama that will go anywhere with a bang because it contains real heart interest, plenty of comedy and a lot of drama.

The story is a most unusual one and deals with a trio of crooks—a giant, a midget and a ventriloquist—who forsake their life in a dime museum to pursue a career of robbery and murder. The trio cover up their misdeeds by running a bird and animal store, and succeed in escaping detection after each crime until two of them murder a wealthy club man while looting his home. After shifting the blame on another they flee to the mountains. Fearful of the strength and cunning of his confederates, the ventriloquist brings a powerful gorilla with him for protection. How the gorilla fulfills his mission, how the innocent culprit is defended by the agency of an unknown voice at the trial, how the mystery is cleared up brings the picture to a thrilling, satisfying end. The cast contains such celebrities as Lon Chaney, Mae Busch, Matt Moore, Victor McLaglen, Harry Earles and Matthew Betz. Miss Busch and Lon Chaney have the outstanding roles but the others take every advantage in what may be rightly called the best crook film of the year.

Winter Sports Demand Appropriate Costumes Both at Fashionable Resorts A broad and at Home

Winter sports are becoming more and more an integral part in the American woman's program. With athletics on the ascendancy in our lives today and sport modes so becomingly chic, the woman who yesterday lolled so lazily in her boudoir with a box of candy and a novel on snowy afternoons, today dons her snappiest sport togs and is out for a gay old time with a bob sled and ice skates.

Smart winter sport costumes, whether designed for fashionable resorts abroad or at home, or whether for the nearest pond where the rest of the neighborhood ice skates, demands its quota of attention. Creators of fashionable garments for those who take their winter sports seriously generally seek their inspiration from lands where snow is the general, rather than the occasional guest.

Russia, for instance, inspired the very attractive garment sketched at the top. The tunic blouse with its modish choker collar and buttoning down the side is typically Russian. Hat, gloves and socks cleverly blend. Woolen-checked material makes up the clever costume at the right, with collar, cuffs, border, and wide belt all made of dark-colored knit wool. Below one sees a charmingly individual costume of camel's hair, which is colorfully embroidered on pockets and is unique in design.

Norma Shearer, movie star, who claims Montreal, Canada, as her birthplace, is extremely fond of winter sports. Ice skating, skiing and tobogganing are included in her program whenever the weather or vacations permit. She is shown here in the typically American girl's costume for winter sports—a colorful sweater worn over a knicker and a woolen tam-o'-shanter to match.

him to stop in less than 1100 feet. The engineer also said that in his experience of 19 years he had never had an accident as fatal as that at Thirty-seventh street.

Frank C. Stewart, fireman on the locomotive, said that the Santa Fe train was traveling at a rate of 35 miles an hour and from his observation post the car in which Hughes and Callander were driving was coming at about the same speed. He stated that the car continued at this speed after the whistles were sounded. Furthermore, the window curtains of the car were up, thus perhaps obstructing the view.

It was stated by Stephen E. Manyk, a Southern Pacific shipping clerk who had been accustomed to travel with Hughes and Callander, that the pair often engaged in conversation while driving, but that Callander was unusually cautious at railroad crossings.

Both George Reifschneider, deputy coroner, and Mrs. Grace Meglinsky with whom Callander had boarded for five years, declared that upon partially regaining consciousness after the accident, Callander said: "It wasn't my fault."

Dr. G. M. Bumgarner attended Hughes and gave "shock" as the reason for his death. Hughes' injuries were: Internal hemorrhage both legs broken above the knee, broken right leg at the ankle and foot.

Funeral services were held for Callander yesterday afternoon at the Wilson and Kratzer funeral parlors. Rev. Frank A. Woten, pastor of the First Christian church, officiated. Interment followed at the Sunset View cemetery.

According to relatives Hughes' remains will be shipped back to New York Wednesday.

He will be buried at Cypress Lawn cemetery.

Guide to good things

GRANDMOTHER could tell, by rubbing it in her hand, whether the goods in a suit or overcoat was all-wool. Grandfather could tell good leather by the feel of it. Both had ways, or thought they had, of knowing good silver, brass or copper.

But you buy so many more things than our grandparents did, that it is almost impossible to be a judge of quality in everything you buy. In this age, only a specialist could really know even a small part of the many things used in your home, if the trade-marks and trade-names were left off them.

Advertising has taken the place of grandfather's and grandmother's knowledge. You may be sure a thing advertised is as represented. If it is not, the person making it and the one selling it will quickly lose your confidence and your patronage. People do not dare misrepresent in their advertising—to do so is to invite closed factories and stores.

The advertisements are your guide to good things. Whatever you need, there is an advertisement in these pages that will take you to it—just the kind you want.

Sulphur Clears Skin Right Up

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Menthosulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ring worm.

It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Rowles Menthosulphur from any good druggist.

ROLL CALL OF RED CROSS IS STARTED HERE

Yesterday morning started the roll call for the reorganized chapter of the Red Cross in Richmond and according to a report made last night the first day was a complete success. The headquarters of the chapter are at the Hotel Carquinez.

The roll call is under the direction of S. P. Krick of San Francisco and Homer W. Patterson is the head of the local committee. The drive will be continued this week and at closing time it is expected that the Red Cross will be again firmly established in this city.

Krick, in speaking of the drive, yesterday declared:

"If people could realize the work the organization is carrying on, we believe that the membership would mount steadily, back to the twenty millions of war times. Everyone knows that the Red Cross is carrying on a tremendous work at the present time in Florida, but very few people know that during the past year it was called upon to alleviate suffering in 62 disasters in the United States and 28 disasters abroad, spending more than four million dollars in this work in a single year. Several of these disasters occurred in the west, one being the Santa Barbara earthquake."

"Right now, the Red Cross is handling six major disasters in the Mississippi valley and is also on the scene at Douglas and Treadwell, Alaska, restoring the homes burned in the recent fire there."

"The National Red Cross has given an appropriation of one hundred dollars to the Cuban Red Cross for relief of the sufferers in the hurricane that devastated the coast of Cuba a short time ago, and has also appropriated five thousand dollars for use in connection with the Armenian earthquake."

The youngsters were picked up by the driver of the car and rushed to their home where the injuries were found to be of only a slight nature. In the excitement Mrs. Nee, reported to the police, she failed to obtain the name of the motorist. She stated that he offered her his card but she was so excited that she doesn't remember if she took it and if she did where she placed it.

Although the bicycle was completely wrecked, the children escaped with but slight bruises.

Crossing River With Pipe Line To Cost Million

Conveying the East Bay cities' water across the three branches of the San Joaquin will cost a trifle over $1,000,000, it was shown in a statement today by Arthur P. Davis, chief engineer and general manager of the East Bay Municipal Utility District, who described this phase of the problem of bringing in Mokelumne water.

There are three crossings—Old River, near Orwood on the line of the Santa Fe railroad; Middle River, near Moulton, and the San Joaquin proper, about one-half mile south of Barnhart Landing.

Each crossing will be about 800 feet, including the approaches, and the cost of the three will be $1,000,000.

The pipe line approaches all of these crossings on trestles three or four feet above the surface of the ground, this method being used instead of burying the pipe because of the uncertain foundation in the peat lands of the district. As the pipes go downward over the river bank, there will be a series of piles, probably one hundred in number, acting as an anchor. The pipes will go forty feet below the surface of the water and will lie in trenches dredged for the purpose. This depth will place it below the point where it could be struck by any vessel, according to Davis. The San Joaquin proper and both of the branches are navigable and are in constant use by craft of various kinds.

At each one of the three crossings, two pipes will be placed under the river beds although but one will be used in the present first unit of the Mokelumne water project. The second pipe, according to Davis, is installed because it is cheaper to install both while structures for one are being constructed on the same theory. They will be full size although their full capacity will not be used at the moment. The pipes are to be more than five feet in diameter and the submerged portions will be covered with six inches of concrete to prevent rusting.

The river crossing structures are part of the big scheme of construction beyond the river now being promoted. Work since September 1925, has been confined to the western division between the river and the San Pablo Creek. According to present plans this will be completed by April 15.

Most of the right-of-way beyond the river has been secured and contracts have been let on the way to the Lancha Plana reservoir, including the great dam which will be one of the highest concrete structures of its kind in the world.

Trenching operations will shortly be begun for those portions of the pipe which are to be buried beyond the river and the pipe itself will be laid as soon as it is received from the eastern mills and rolled into shape at the Berkeley plant where this work is done. The first shipment of the plates from the Newport News factory is expected this month, according to Davis.

BOXING

Fidel La Barba and Elky Clarke, European flyweight champion, are getting ready for their bout on Friday night at the Madison Square gardens for the championship. The California boy is given the advantage over the European champion.

BASEBALL

We have heard of baseball park owners who have made money during the baseball season and a little during the football season, but a new way of making money from a ball park has been discovered. In Saginaw, Mich., on Saturday, oil drillers set up a drill in the Saginaw ball park and shot a well in the right field. We are expecting fans to start at the Oakland ball park with drills.

MORE BASEBALL

Gene Valla, former Seal outfielder who joined the Oaks last year and made a good showing, is the first Oak to sign a 1927 contract. Valla's contract is the first to be returned of the lot that was mailed last Friday morning by Secretary Herbert McFarlin.

MORE BOXING

Preparing to bring the world middleweight championship back to Europe, an English boxing promoter has sailed for New York to fix up a match between Mickey Walker, holder of the title.

FOOTBALL

Brick Muller's Los Angeles Buccaneers easily defeated Red Grange's New York Yankees professional football team in Los Angeles Sunday by a score of 20 to 6. "Tut" Inlay, former California star was the brilliant player of the day. Don Newmyer, another ex-Bear kicked a field goal from the sidelines at the thirty-five yard mark in the second quarter.

Trio Of Catalina Contestants

George Young, Winner Of Catalina Swim Swamped With Contracts For The Movies

(By Universal Service)

By MARK KELLY

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—George Young, 17-year-old long distance swimmer who won the Catalina Island swim in 15 hours and 28 minutes and 35 seconds, was this afternoon offered contracts totaling more than $100,000 by motion picture producers, vaudeville circuits and news syndicates. As yet Young has not signed any contract, although Sid Grauman, who has been the most active in the deal, closed whereby the youthful Canadian would take the leading part in a picture.

Promoters of every sort and description gathered this afternoon to try and "hook" Young. Probably they figure he is the biggest fish in the ocean since he made his marvelous swim against all the odds the ocean presents. While the various promoters swarmed around Young at the Billmore Hotel, Sid Grauman led "Doc" O'Byrne to one side and told him that every ticket for tomorrow's Catalina swim would be sold to him. Sid Grauman led "Doc" O'Byrne to one side and told him that every ticket for tomorrow's Catalina swim would be sold to him.

The scene on the galleries presented a thrilling sight in which the broad shouldered and smiling Young bore the brunt of attack. He was passed from one circle to another and told so many nice things that his check from William Wrigley didn't look near so big as it did when he landed on the mainland during the early hours of Sunday morning. Young was an interesting sight as he stood with his well worn blue serge suit, open necked shirt and high shoes. His broad smile greeted every click of the camera.

Young appears to be older than 17 years but he has a big happy smile which reminds one of a country boy. His hair is black and rather coarse while his big blue eyes are set well back in his head. So many questions were asked that no definite statement could be obtained from him although his chum and manager both talked and gave the three hundred on hand some choice bits of conversation.

"Of course George will never try to swim the channel in competition again. He would be foolish and then no person can make the distance unless they are fit and the weather conditions are favorable. George would lose prestige if he tried and failed, so I don't think he will ever attempt the swim again," was the way Bill Wrigley put it.

"George is going to stay" with me at 1934 Santa Monica boulevard and his business office will be with Sid Grauman. He will stay in California until March 15 and perhaps longer than that if his mother comes out here. While we have not signed any contracts as yet both George and myself expect to in the next few days. He is a fine boy and we get along fine," said were the scanty bits of conversation uttered by Dr. O'Byrne, his manager and the man who trained him during the weeks before the championship swim.

As is only natural in such a case, Wrigley stayed with Young during his ordeal and no doubt is helping the youth in deciding what move to make. Wrigley understands big business when it comes to fishing and no doubt will be a big aid to the boy who wonders just what it is all about. He plans on taking George to Catalina for a few days and play the part of host to the first man or woman ever to swim from Catalina Island to the mainland.

Telegrams from Toronto, Canada, received by Young today reveal the fact that he will not receive all of the $25,000 given as first prize money but only three-fifths. His share of the $25,000 will amount to $15,000 while his manager, Henry O'Byrne, who paid his expenses after he reached California in December, will get $10,000. A contract to this effect was signed by George's mother. This was done in light of the fact that O'Byrne stood to lose all the money he put up if George didn't win.

Local Cage Mentors At Oakland Meeting

Coaches Ivan W. Hill and W. L. "Doc" Seawright of Richmond attended the session of the Pacific basketball coaches and officials meeting held last night at the Athens club in Oakland.

A demonstration was staged by two teams from the Athens club and each referee officiated in the game for three minutes. After criticism and suggestions on the work of the individual referee were made.

Oroville—Contracts let for constructing bridges over Shaw Slough on Clark road, and Whitehall Creek on Oroville-Bangor road.

Fresno—Odd Fellows planning to build $225,000 new lodge home.

PULLMAN FIVE DEFEATED BY LEGION SQUAD

The Pullman basketball team will go up against the Fruitvale team tonight at the Roosevelt Junior high school in the second game of the P. A. A. league here. This will be one more step in the ladder to the Pacific Coast Athletic association basketball championship for the local squad.

Two practice games have already been played between these two flashy outfits and each won a game by a narrow margin. The battle starts at 8:30 o'clock.

In the preliminary game at 7:30, "Doc" Seawright's Preamble and the Cogit aggregation swing into action.

Pullman Five And Fruitvale Cagers To Meet

The Martinez American Legion basketball shooters scored a victory in their clash with the Pullman company's quintet of Richmond at Alhambra gymnasium Saturday night. The Pullman aggregation had met with few defeats during the season and the outcome of the game was in the nature of a surprise.

The legionnaires played aggressive basketball throughout and won by a score of 36 to 16. Korte, who recently returned to the Legion lineup, was responsible for much of his team's strength. Bratset and Kramer were the notable players of the evening. Bratset for his basket shooting and Kramer for his floor work.

Bear Track Team Schedule To Hold Seven Track Meets

BERKELEY, Jan. 17.—Seven meets, of which three will be held on the Golden Gate's own oval, comprise the schedule of the University of California track team for 1927.

The University of Nebraska will come west for an intercollegiate meet against the Bears on April 9. Coach Schulte is minus the services of Roland Locke, the sensational sprinter who last year set a world's record of 9.5 seconds to win fame for himself and the Cornhuskers, but the Nebraskaans are still considered the best in the Missouri valley.

The schedule:
March 19.—Los Angeles Athletic club at Berkeley.
March 26.—Southern California at Los Angeles.

April 2.—Olympic club at Berkeley.
April 9.—Nebraska at Berkeley.
April 16.—Stanford at Palo Alto.
May 27-28.—I. C. A. A. A. championships at Philadelphia.

June 3-4.—Pacific Intercollegiate at Los Angeles.

The last two meets have yet to be formally approved, but it is expected that the Associated Students executive committee will probably decide to send the trackmen to both events.

Junior Cage Squads Will Meet Burbank

The eighty-five and one hundred pound basketball squads of the Roosevelt Junior high school will meet the Burbank Junior high school teams today, according to an announcement made by W. L. "Doc" Seawright yesterday. Both teams are eagerly awaiting the fray.

Club Owners Talk Of Draft At B.B. Meeting

By LARRY WOLFE
FRENCH LICK SPRINGS, Ind. Jan. 17.—Major and minor league club owners, with Commissioner K. M. Landis in the chair, assembled in this pretty little resort village today to discuss the much discussed "draft" and optional player agreement.

If they discussed the American League meeting to be held in Chicago next Monday when Commissioner Landis will demand a "certain American League official" submit to him all the evidence he said he possessed in connection with the retirement of Tris Cobb and Tris Speaker they did so behind locked doors.

None of the major league managers here wished to discuss the Cobb-Speaker case.

Landis himself refused to go further into the case than beyond the already published statement that he will demand a "show down" at next Monday's meeting in Chicago.

The funny thing about this meeting is that nobody here has any authority to act.

A lot of recommendations will be made after which the candidates will report back to their respective leagues. Final action must be taken by the leagues.

In a nutshell the story is this: Three major minor organizations do not submit to the draft. They are the Pacific Coast and International Leagues and the American Association.

Two years ago the majors wanted to fix the draft price for class double A organizations at $7,500, this proposition was rejected. It is believed the minors will ask a draft price close to $10,000 which may not be accepted by the majors. It is the general opinion among the baseball men, other than those whose organizations are still without the draft, that the draft should be universal.

Dec. 28, 1926.
After the beginning of last summer my blood test showed two positives; that is two x's. It had previously been four x's (positives).

After I failed to get relief by treatments of hypodermic shots I decided to give the Fong Wan Herbs a trial. I drank the herbs for only one month. Nevertheless when I had a blood test taken again on Dec. 24, 1926, the test showed negative. So my blood is thoroughly cleansed and is O. K. at last. I shall certainly enjoy a Happy New Year. Because of my gratitude to the Fong Wan Herb Treatment, I am glad to give this testimonial.

WIG-WAGASKED FOR SCENE OF FATAL ACCIDENT

The city council was last night asked by Albino Slongo, 4127 Ohio avenue to investigate the possibility of forcing the Santa Fe railway company to install an electric wig-wag at the grade-crossing on Thirty-seventh street where two men lost their lives last Friday.

Slongo also asked the council if anything could be done about having the railroad company fence in its tracks between Nicholl Park and San Pablo avenue. According to a statement made to the council by Slongo the fence has been broken down for about three years and children enroute to school wander across the tracks at any place they desire.

City Attorney Thomas M. Carlson declared that both complaints could be adjusted only by the State Railroad commission but upon his recommendation the matter was put into the hands of adjustment. He will hold a conference with Slongo within the next few days on the matter.

Rodeo Man Held For Lunacy Board Lead Merry Chase

Escaping from the insane ward at the Martinez Hospital Sunday afternoon, where he was being held pending examination by the lunacy board, Manuel Rodriguez of Rodeo, 77 years of age, sallied forth in original nakedness and was only caught after an hour's search by Deputy Sheriffs R. L. McNamara and J. M. Joseph, assisted by hospital attendants.

McNamara discovered the crazed man in the kitchen of a nearby house, but realizing that his new-gained liberty was perilous, Rodriguez set a new record in sprinting with McNamara in hot pursuit.

McNamara overtook Rodriguez a short distance down Alhambra avenue, and opened the door of his car. Rodriguez jumped in, thinking that the deputy was a new found friend, who wished to aid him in his escape. But when the hospital building came into view, Rodriguez put up a fierce battle. McNamara stopped the car and subdued the man after a short but concentrated battle.

The lunacy board will probably hold an examination into Rodriguez' sanity tomorrow.

Hopes Of Peace In Nicaragua Are Abandoned By Government

him to do so since he was virtually selected and placed in office by the United States.

Confidential reports from Admiral Latimer declare that if the American forces are withdrawn, Diaz will be overthrown within a week after what he believes will prove the bloodiest revolution in Nicaraguan history. For this reason he advises that American forces be maintained there indefinitely.

The state department is said to view the situation much as Admiral Latimer does and has no intention of giving ground before congressional demands that Americans withdraw and let Diaz and Sacasa fight it out.

This became known today after a series of semi-official rumors that the state department had done an about face on the Nicaraguan policy.

While the Nicaraguan situation remained delicate, tenseness over Mexico had appreciably lessened. The state department was apparently quite willing to have the general claims commission and the Mexican courts act on the question of confiscated American property.

P. M. SANFORD AGAIN HEADS LOCAL GROUP

Y. M. C. A. groups depicted the steps in the program followed by the organization.

Douglas Salmi, of the Apache Friendly Indians, spoke for the Friendly Indians Clubs for boys between the ages of 10 to 12.

Billy McClosky, of the Sam Houston Pioneers, was the representative of the Pioneer Boys Group for boys of 12 to 14.

Dean Hall, of the Francis Asbury Comrades, spoke for the boys between 14 and 16.

Robert Burns, president of the Hi-Y club, outlined the program followed by the group between the ages of 16 to 18.

The Young Men's Division and its aims were described by George Johnson. This group includes young men of 18 to 25.

P. M. Sanford, president of the Y. M. C. A. for the ensuing year and chief executive of the Chamber of Commerce was among those who gave short talks to the assembled members. Dr. W. W. Gibson made a short presentation speech in which he complimented E. L. Scofield for the work accomplished during 1926, and presented him with a gold beaver as a token of appreciation.

Dr. M. H. Greenlee spoke for the ministers of Richmond and paid a high tribute to the Y. M. C. A. activities.

Edward B. Ball, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, also lauded the purposes and aims of the organization.

H. A. Johnston spoke of the spirit of helpfulness that animates the Y. M. C. A. and mentioned in closing the "service" motif that made cooperation spontaneous.

Coroner Aubrey Wilson presided at the banquet and stressed the fact that the local organization had made big strides during the past year.

Thirty-two older boys attended training conferences and 58 spent twelve weeks in Bible discussion. At the 13 Father and Son events there were 541 present. More than 7700 men and boys attended the 499 events conducted in the gymnasium.

In the basketball leagues there were 25 teams and 335 players in action.

Sixty-two boys attended the two weeks summer camp. A. W. Mueller, general secretary, stated that the Y. M. C. A. cooperated with the church, the home, the community, and the school. In the state there are 69 associations with 45,703 members. In the world there are 9,424 associations with 1,533,456 members.

Hospitals Seek To Establish
Same Standards
(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Hospitals throughout the country are scrambling to "get on the band wagon" of standardization set by the American College of Surgeons. Dr. Allan Craig of Chicago told members of the college from Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, and the District of Columbia at the opening of a two-day session here today.

"For nine years one of our objectives has been to get the hospitals to recognize that they must come up to a minimum standard of equipment and efficiency for the sake of the common good," Dr. Craig said.

"At first they were reluctant. But as we have been preaching our gospel and the public has come to demand the best, the hospitals have fallen into line. And at present there are at least 2300 of them seeking to meet the requirements of our 'minimum standard'."

In addition to 200 or more surgeons, the meeting today devoted to this subject was attended by many nurses and hospital superintendents seeking information and instruction.

"Our slogans has been, 'Safety First for the Sick,'" said Dr. Craig, "and that means that the activities of an institution should be concentrated on the patient and that the hospital should not be used primarily as a training ground for doctors and nurses."

"The public has lost its old-fashioned fear of the hospital and has come to regard it as an adjunct to the home. The modern, efficient hospital is concerned with getting its patients well as thoroughly and quickly as possible."

"If it is a 'standardized' hospital, it will leave nothing undone to accomplish that purpose, because a sick man is an economic loss to himself and to the community."

Trustees Of El Cerrito Abandon Annexation Move

The movement to annex the Berkeley Park territory to El Cerrito was laid over indefinitely when the trustees of El Cerrito received a communication from the Berkeley Park Community Club, Monday night stating that a canvass had been made of the territory and that the residents were not in favor of annexing.

A letter from Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wick of Manilla avenue petitioned the trustees to put gravel on the unpaved portion of Manilla avenue as it was practically impassable.

The communication was referred to street superintendent Forrest Wright for investigation.

Stating that they thought the license of $5.00 per quarter to operate a soft drink establishment was too high a petition with ten signatures of local merchants was received by the board.

Trustee Fred Lutz told the board that he thought the fee was nominal so the petition was placed on file.

That the pole on the corner of San Pablo avenue and Blake street, which has been a danger to traffic, had been painted white and a reflex danger sign ordered installed was the information contained in the letter from George N. Rooker, manager of the Western States Gas & Electric Co.

A petition protesting against the acceptance of the sidewalk on San Pablo avenue between Hall street and Potrero avenue was placed on file after city engineer Ross L. Calfee informed the board that the sidewalk would be put in satisfactory condition.

Recommendation by Trustee Frank McDermott to have fire alarm boxes placed in Mira Vista and on Arlington was laid over one week to get an estimate of the cost of installation.

On the recommendation of Trustee Fred Lutz street lights were ordered installed at Pointsett and Carlton avenue and Pointsett and Amador street in the Mira Vista tract.

Frank Walsh, building inspector and former treasurer of El Cerrito was appointed night marshal Monday night at salary of $150.00 per month.

The appointment was made on the recommendation of Frank McDermott city police commissioner. Trustee Phil A. Lee did not vote on the appointment.

Plans for street improvement of the Berkeley Country Club Terrace tract were submitted to the trustees by City Engineer Ross Calfee Monday and will be in the city clerk's office all this week so the property owners may find out the cost of the proposed improvement.

A license to do plumbing in El Cerrito issued to A. C. Nutter was revoked when Plumbing Inspector Blomberg notified the trustee that the check paid by Nutter for his license had been returned from the bank marked not sufficient funds.

Action on the plans for the opening of Liberty street from Manilla avenue to Fink Lane were laid over one week to get the sentiment of the property owners.

TO ADOPT NEW TRAFFIC LAW

Richmond's new traffic ordinance will be presented for its first reading before the city council on next Monday night it was indicated last night at the council session when a general discussion of the proposed ordinance was held.

A few minor changes were suggested by members of the council last night and these will be embodied in the proposed law when it is presented to the council Monday night.

All of the traffic regulations now in force in the city which date back to the days of the horse and buggy will be rescinded by the proposed law and new ones taking care of the conditions of the present day will be put into effect.

Jay-walking, and the playing on the streets by children or others will be prohibited under the new law. Macdonald avenue will be made a boulevard street and a few minor changes will be made in the parking regulations on business streets.

City Manager J. A. McVittie has been investigating the type of sign most suitable for use as a boulevard stop. He has received several samples and in a few days will have two placed on Macdonald avenue. One of these will be at Ninth street and the other at Tenth street.

The sign on a yellow background is made with black lettering except for the word "stop." This is in a special patented glass. The reflection of street or store lights on the back of this lettering makes the sign stand out almost as much as though the sign were lighted.

According to McVittie the unlighted boulevard stop signs used in other East Bay cities have proven unsatisfactory at night, but it is believed that the type to be tried out here will prove a success.

BUILDING PERMIT

A permit was issued Saturday by City Building Inspector A. J. Hurley to Charles Ceredona, granting permission to erect a one car garage north of Nicholl between Washington and Tunnel at a cost of $150.

tion to acquire the needed property.

To prevent any building on the section the city attorney was ordered to draw up an ordinance to prevent building closer than twenty feet from property line on San Pablo avenue.

An erroneous assessment against the East Richmond Heights Lands Co. for burning weeds on vacant property was stricken from the roll when the board instructed the city attorney to prepare a resolution making the change.

A request for a signal light on the city hall by City Marshal Forrest Wright was laid over one week for an estimate of the cost.

Andrews Sees Big Consumption In Medicinal Whiskey

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Suppression of bootleg whiskey ultimately may boost the consumption of medicinal whiskey as high as ten million gallons a year, General Lincoln C. Andrews, chief of the dry forces, said today.

The contemplated manufacture, under the treasury's bill, has been announced as three million gallons yearly.

A large proportion of the stock are failing to buy medicinal whiskey under present conditions, Andrews declared, relying instead on bootleg liquor or stocks they own.

When these sources are cut off in the future the legal distilling of whiskey might have to be sharply expanded, Andrews said, solely for legitimate medicinal use.

"A new York nurse told me that whiskey was being used medicinally in a great many homes she visited," said Andrews. "But she hardly ever saw a doctor's prescription to buy whiskey."

Andrews made public a resolution of the Anti-Saloon League of America, and a statement of the Methodist Board of Temperance, prohibition and public morals, favoring enactment of the bill. The association against the prohibition amendment also has endorsed it, declared itself for improving enforcement while the Volstead Act stands.

Tax Lien Suits Filed Against Chaplin By The Government

Mrs. Chaplin was on the stand only a few moments and testified that her household expenses while living at her husband's home were $3,000 a month exclusive of rent. She had suggested to the court that $5,000 a month would be a reasonable sum.

The court also made permanent the order restraining Chaplin from visiting his children. Mrs. Chaplin's attorneys were awarded $4,000 in attorney's fees and $250 for expenses. Judge Guerin also ruled for the payment of $2,150 as a premium on the $300,000 bonds under which the receivers and Mrs. Chaplin have been placed.

There was a brief bitter word battle between attorney Lyndol Young, counsel for Mrs. Chaplin and Gavin McNab of San Francisco, Chaplin's chief legal adviser when the latter was asked to take the witness stand by the plaintiff's attorney.

A recess was taken at 3 o'clock and Mrs. Chaplin posed on the witness stand for photographers. Attorney Lloyd Wright, whose testimony is desired by Mrs. Chaplin's attorneys had not been found at that hour by subpoena servers.

The Dollar Bill

The wide popularity and increasing usefulness of dollar bills made it necessary last year for the government to issue about four hundred and fifty million of them—seven times as many as in 1900. The constant handling of the paper has reduced the average life of the bill to eight months.

In considering the many uses of dollar bills, it should not be forgotten that one of them is required to open a Savings Account in the American Trust Company, where it will earn four percent interest, compounded semi-annually.
